ABOUT US

BareMetal Computer Traders (Pty) Ltd is a South African BEE company with its headquarters in Cape Town. Founded in 2011 with the mandate to provide managed IT services to the local community of Mitchells Plain and surrounding areas, the company has since grown to offer comprehensive IT solutions with tailored packages to service a spectrum of clients in the broader Cape Town region.

WHY USE BAREMETAL?

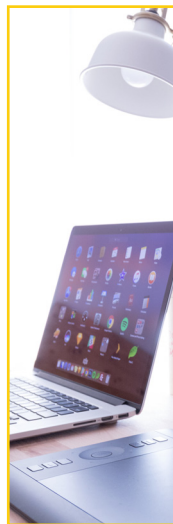

At BareMetal, we pride ourselves in being a one-stop IT business solution. We not only provide secure wireless internet and IT managed services that run independently from existing infrastructure, but we also offer access to servers and workstations which are built to the highest standards we specify to our hardware suppliers.

Furthermore, we offer a range of related IT services to meet your needs and we believe in building long-term relationships with our clients. As such we carefully consider the holistic requirements of each client, together with the budget and strategy direction of the company, individual or community we aim to serve.

For our small-to-medium sized organisations, we provide continued IT support with services to help you expand your business. We also regularly service larger corporations and can easily outsource engineers long-term, providing you with the comfort of an IT service that draws on a large pool of expertise, without the complexity of managing staff rotation.

MISSION STATEMENT

Our mission is to do what other companies can't do and to go where other companies can't go. Our goal is therefore to assist individuals, businesses and communities with access to our high level IT expertise, along with a wide portfolio of services to help your business thrive.

As our name suggests, we strip back any pretence to offer clients the 'BareMetal' with exceptional quality services at affordable prices. Our servers are dedicated to a single tenant for full use entirely by the client, and without the concern of a shared connection. This ensures connectivity that you can trust.
